SIR CHARLES DILKE

HIS PROPOSED CANDIDACY FOR RE-ELECTION TO PARLIAMENT.

A Statement in Vindication of Himself-What Is Thought of It-Other Foreign News.

London, Enc., March 5 .- A large state ment has been issued and is now being circulated among the electors of the Forest of Dean division of Gloucestershire on behalf of Sir Charles Dilke. On February 25th it was announced that the electors of the Forest of Dean division had asked Dilke to be their candidate for Parliament at the coming general election. Dilke assented to their proposition, provided that he had a fair assurance from a majority of the Liberal electors that his candidacy would receive their support. Finally it was stated that Dilke had supplied the Forest of Dean Laberal organization with a statement for private circulation among its members yindicating himself against the clayers was assist him in contact the control of the same to the control of the south of Germany by way of Switzerland. But these other unions, though ready enough with expressions of sympathy with the men who are now out on strike, evince little liking for a more practical display of support.

Tom Mann, the labor agitator, yesterday addressed the union laborers at a conference held at Cardiff on his resolution in favor of a federation of the various labor micons, which he said would have averted the recent difficulties. "Out of nine millions of wage workers in Great Britain," he added, "not two millions are organized. considerable damage to future vintages by the ravages of the phylloxera. This, however, is considered to be only a pretest to obtain higher prices for champagne. Experiments made in various parts of France prove that the wine-growers are now able to successfully combat the phylloxera. The real reason for the advance in price is that the growers, who have hitherto been at the mercy of shippers, have formed a combination and have raised the price. The shippers in turn have increased the price to consumers.

PETER WENT OUT AND WEPT.

St. John's church was crowded last night, when Dr. Newton preached the fifth in his course of special sermons. His text was St. Luke xxii., 61, 62, "And the Lord turned and looked upon Petor, and Peter remembered the word of the Lord: * * and he went out and wept bitterly."

Peter's character and history were graphically portrayed, especially as illustrating repentance toward God in contrast with Judas Iscariot the example of remorse, or "the sorrow of the world that worketh death." The point was made "that he that thinketh he standeth should take heed lest he fall." ROW WE DENT CHRIST.

We may think that we should never have been guilty of Peter's awful offence, Dr. Newton said, but the young man who for fear of his room-mate neglects his prayers; the business-man who fails to protest against falsehood and unrighteousness when others propose them; test against falsehood and unrighteousness when others propose them; the person who when drawn by the Holy Spirit declines to confess Christ before men through love or fear of the world—all these have denied Christ without the terrible circumstances excusing them which surrounded Peter. But the food tomediately after His resurrection indicated to Peter His forgiveness and shortly recommissioned him in His apostolic office, So, for those who have denied the Lord and who truly repent there is forgiveness—intl, free, and instant. URUED TO TURN.

hort all who had not as yet confessed Christ to turn to Him with tears of peni-tence and unwavering faith in His cortain pardon. His welcoming mercy, and His sermon "I sat Alone with Life's Memo-ries," and after the sermon "Slumberer, Arise, Despise Not the Truth." The latter was rarticularly solemn, though at the same time beautiful, and was very touch-ingly rendered by Captain Cunningbam. There will be services at St. Joan's at 7:30 and II to-day, and Dr. Newton's ser-mons will be continued to-night and Sat-urday night at 8 o'clock.

in attendance and in the religious interest manifested.

Stillness, solemnity, and tenderness of feeling were the characteristics of the meeting held last evening. Prayers were offered by Rev. Mr. Turnbull, Dr. Finley of Romney, and Judge Wellford. Old and well-known hymns were sung to familiar tunes, and in this part of the service all seemed to unite with most evident fervor. It is the preference of those who have charge of these meetings to continue to hold them to the end of the week in the lecture-room, and Dr. Hoge, who conducted the services, said he would venture to make the appointment for this erening in the same place, but the church will be ready to receive the congregation if it cannot be accommodated in the lecture-room.

believe that he will.

Mr. Candish is a Scotchman by birth and about twenty-cight years of age. He has been in America about twelve years, during all of which time he has been associated with the New York Association, either in the capacity of committeeman or secretary. It is known that he has always had a decided liking for the people of the South, and for this reason the board hope that he will accept the position tendered ereated.

Many persons think he is lingering about the national capital so as to be convenient to the President, and it is intimated that he and some of his influential associates may be giving the Chief Magistrate a few points in this matter. It is said that the ex-Congressman will not be here until Sunday day.

It has been an open secret for a long time that Judge Waddill has his eye on the district judgeship now held by Hon. Robert W. Hughes, from which the latter can rotire in a few months with full pay if he so desires. Judge Hughes and the late representative from this district recently visited President Harrison together, and it has been suggested that perhaps their interview had something to do with one or the other of these judgeships, or perhaps both.

It is understood that when Judge Hughes It is understood that when sudge Hughes retires he would like to have his son, who is a successful member of the bar, tavored with an appointment on the United States beach, and he and the "gentleman from Henrico" may be able to effect an arrangement which, with the President's approval, may be satisfactory to all in interest.

HENRICO DEMOCRATS ACTIVE.

the Allance.

Great interest is felt in the approaching county primary and the candidates and their friends are earnestly at work.

The election occurs on Thursday, the 25th instant, and the chances are that the Democrats will turn out in full numbers.

The contests for the cominations for the respective offices to be filled are being pushed with great vigor, but upon a friendly basis, and the result will be such a large vote in the primary as will almost positively insure the success of the Democratic ticket in May.

What part the Farmers' Alliance will take in the local fight has been a matter of some inquiry and concern, but the very general belief is that the organization will not interfere at all, but that its members will cant their ballots as they think proper. Doubtless 80 per cent, of the three hun-

Betreat for the Sick.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Managers of the Retreat for the Sick yesterday a plan for establishing cots for incurables was considered. The calls upon the sympathies of the Board of Managers are so great for this class of patients that it was decided to make an effort to provide in some way for their care. An endowment fund of $3,500 will be required for each cot. It was decided that this plan was the most practical way of accomplishing the end desired.
